Worrying practice: Kuala Lumpur City Hall's by-laws have it that restaurants must have a proper washing area but a scene like this where workers clean dishes in the back alleys is still common in the capital city. — LOW LAY PHOON/The Star

Kuala Lumpur City Hall gives its word to act upon complaints on dirty eateries, including claims made on social media. However, it urges the public to avoid sharing unverified videos that could tarnish the reputation of faultless restaurants. >3

Ng says councillorship is not linked to party elections.

Izham says Amanah submitted its list of candidates yesterday.

Terence is keen to continue serving the people of Petaling Jaya.

Oon will be ending his term as councillor to give others a chance to serve.

Municipal councillors' term to end June 30

Selangor govt wants to include more NGOs and women in new line-up

By PRIYA MENON and BRENDA CH'NG priya@thestar.com.my

THE tenure for current councillors in local municipal councils in Selangor which ends on June 30 will not be extended, says Selangor Local Government, Public Transportation and New Village Development Committee chairman Ng Sze Han.

Over the past month, there have been speculations about the tenure of the current batch of councillors, with some believing that the term will be extended until December.

The supposed extension was said to allow the parties time to nominate their preferred candidates as councillors, following the respective party elections.

The elections are expected to take place between August and November.

Ng, however, denied the speculations, saying that councillorship was not linked to party elections.

"Councillorship is not a reward so it should not be linked to the party elections.

"The chosen candidates will not be dropped after the party elections as the councillors' tenure runs for two years," he said.

Ng said the respective Pakatan Harapan parties had yet to submit their candidates for the 12 local councils in the state.

"All parties have to submit their candidates' names by this week," he added.

The names are expected to be finalised and endorsed in the next executive council meeting which will be held by the end of this month.

The new batch of councillors will report for duty in July.

However, the swearing-in date will be determined by the respective local councils.

Ng said the state government encouraged the parties namely PKR, DAP, Parti Amanah Negara and Parti Pribumi Bersatu Malaysia to nominate more non-governmental organisations (NGOs) and women this time round.

He said the parties would decide on the number of NGO representatives to nominate.

With regards to the number of women councillors, the state hopes to achieve 30% representation in total.

While the relevant parties would vet their candidates, Ng said the state government would reject the nomination if the candidate was deemed unsuitable.

For now, asset declaration is not applicable when choosing a councillor. However bankrupts cannot be nominated.

Selangor Amanah chief Izham Hashim said the party had finalised all 49 names as its shortlist of candidates and submitted it yesterday.

Previously, Amanah only had 10 councillors under its party quota.

"We have 12 NGO names and are retaining several names, including Nor Mohd Zulkarnain Abdul Yazid in Sepang Municipal Council, Pushpa Nagiah Vengadesan in Kuala Selangor District Council, Rajakumar Batumalai in Hulu Selangor District Council and Siti Maimun Jurini in Sabak Bernam District Council.

"All of our candidates are carefully selected based on their academic background, work experience, party position and time commitment.

"It is a requirement that the councillor must reside in the municipality where they are serving," added Izham, a former councillor with Shah Alam City Council (MBSA).

Several MBSA councillors confirmed to StarMetro that they had submitted their nomination papers to their parties.

PKR party whip Tan Ah Kow said he and several others submitted their names last week, but had not heard anything since then.

Meanwhile, the Petaling Jaya City (MBPJ) councillors are ready for the end of their term.

"I hope those chosen will be sworn in the first week of July so that they can carry out their duties effectively," said current DAP party whip Terence Tan, who hopes to stay on as councillor.

He added that the swearing-in date had not been announced.

"We sent over 10 names for the DAP quota. At least half of the nominees are fresh faces," said Terence, who added that three names would be for the NGO quota.

Councillor Sean Oon from DAP, who currently oversees SS1, SS3 and SS9A in Petaling Jaya, confirmed that he did not wish to be reappointed after his term at MBPJ ends.

"I am taking a break after more than five years to allow new faces with fresh ideas to participate in the development of Petaling Jaya," said Oon.

Four other councillors, Mohd Ghazali Daud, Ariffin Mahayuddin, Lim Yi Wei and Jamaliah Jamaluddin resigned at the end of April to contest in GE14.

Petaling Jaya PKR party whip Ahmad Akhir Pawan Chik said their list of 10 names had been sent to the party for approval.

"We have gotten all the necessary documentation for our candidates and are now waiting for party approval. We do not know the outcome yet," said Ahmad Akhir who wants to stay on as councillor.

Out of the 10 names, one will be left for the NGO quota and it will most likely be filled by current councillor Derek Fernandez.

Ahmad Akhir disclosed that a majority of the names sent were incumbents and only one or two new ones had been added to the line-up.

24 22/6/18 NYS 21 Tiada pilihanraya PBT dalam tempoh terdekat

PUCHONG - Pilihan raya kerajaan tempatan tidak mungkin dapat dilaksanakan dalam tempoh terdekat, kata Exco Kerajaan Tempatan, Pengangkutan Awam dan Pembangunan Kampung Baharu, Ng Sze Han.

Beliau memberitahu setuju pilihan raya dilakukan bagi pemilihan ahli majlis di setiap pihak berkuasa tempatan (PBT) namun ia tidak dapat dilaksanakan berikutan Akta Kerajaan Tempatan 1976 secara jelas menyatakan kerajaan negeri tidak berhak mengadakan pilihan raya ahli majlis PBT.

Sze Han yang juga Adun Kinrara berkata, beliau mengalu-alukan kenyataan Menteri Perumahan dan Kerajaan Tempatan, Zuraida Kamaruddin yang memaklumkan pilihan raya pemilihan datuk bandar akan diadakan dalam tempoh tiga tahun akan datang.

"Kita mula dengan pilihan raya datuk bandar dulu lepas itu mungkin boleh laksanakan pilihan raya ahli majlis tapi perlu ubah akta terlebih dahulu. Nak ubah akta pula bukan bidang kuasa kerajaan negeri sebaliknya kerajaan Pusat.

"Saya rasa dalam konteks ini lebih bagus kalau rakyat boleh pilih wakil ahli majlis mereka. Namun saya tak rasa ia boleh diadakan dalam masa singkat ini," katanya kerajaan negeri masih meneruskan proses pemilihan ahli majlis menerusi kaedah lantikan.

Terdahulu Sze Han berkata, ahli majlis perlu mempunyai kelayakan kelulusan minimum sekurang-kurangnya Sijil Pelajaran Malaysia (SPM).

"Mereka akan dipilih berdasarkan persetujuan parti politik masing-masing. Ahli majlis bukan pekerjaan yang glamor kena berkhidmat untuk rakyat.

"Kalau dah dipilih tapi tak jalankan tugas dengan baik dan kita terima aduan mengenainya, siasatan akan dilakukan," katanya.
