Kembara ilmu RC Bikers ke Ko Samui

AMPANG – Seramai 12 Ahli Kelab RC Bikers berpeluang mengembara ke Ko Samui Thailand bagi menimba ilmu dan pengalaman.

Setiausaha Kelab RC Bikers, Mohd Yusof Yaacob berkata, pihaknya telah merancang program sebegini sejak tahun lalu.

“Kita juga bercadang untuk singgah ke beberapa masjid dan sekolah tahfiz dalam perjalanan ke Ko Samui seperti di Hat Yai, Yala dan Pattani. Tujuannya adalah kita mahu melihat kehidupan penduduk di kawasan itu,” katanya.

Tambahnya, pihaknya juga akan memberi sumbangan pada setiap masjid yang dilawati.

“Selain daripada itu, sebahagian ahli kelab ini merupakan kakitangan pihak berkuasa tempatan, mereka boleh melihat landskap atau perkara yang bersesuaian dengan kerjaya masing-masing untuk dipraktikkan apabila pulang ke tanah air,” katanya sambil memberitahu ahli kelab ini juga boleh dianggap sebagai duta kecil.

“Kita juga boleh mempromosikan negara kita kepada rakyat di negara jiran.

Hanya tiga ahli akan menggunakan motosikal berkuasa tinggi untuk memantau atau membantu ahli lain apabila berlaku kecemasan.” - Mohd Yusof Saya berterima kasih kepada Jawatankuasa Penduduk (JKP) Zon 5 dan 15 Majlis Perbandaran Ampang Jaya (MPAJ) yang menyokong program kami,” katanya.

Turut hadir pada majlis perlepasan konvoi adalah Ahli Majlis MPAJ Ahmad Sabri Abu Bakar dan Ahmad Fauzi Mohd Kamis.

Mohd Yusof berkata, majoriti ahli yang mengikuti konvoi ini menggunakan motosikal berkuasa 150cc.

“Hanya tiga ahli akan menggunakan motosikal berkuasa tinggi untuk memantau atau membantu ahli lain apabila berlaku kecemasan,” katanya.

Taman Melawati RA all for going green

DESPITE a long list of priorities to manage, Taman Melawati Residents' Association (TMRA) Zone ABC says safety and the environment are of the utmost importance.

The association was formed in 2013 to manage security in the neighbourhood.

Since then, residents have turned their attention towards sustainable living through recycling, said TMRA Zone ABC chairman Razman Hakimi Abdullah, adding that the activity started in May.

"We started with a yard sale in which people brought unwanted but usable items from their houses.

"Profits from the sale were split into three and donated to Buddhist and Hindu temples as well as a mosque.

"Since then, we have set up a large skip used as a recycling bin at the intersection of Jalan Melawati 2 and Jalan Taman Melawati so that people can leave pre-loved items for others," he said.

"Melawati residents are ready to go green and we believe that recycling is the way forward," said Razman of the approximately 5,000-strong neighbourhood.

The association and its members are also actively engaged in dialogues with Ampang Jaya Municipal Council (MPAJ) to ensure the vegetation surrounding the neighbourhood is left intact.

"The association was primarily formed for security, but then we got involved in many other activities, from recycling to maintaining cleanliness including cleaning up of drains.

"We have a lot of greenery so we ensure the local council adheres to the government's regulations to protect our public spaces," said Razman.

In terms of security, the residents take turns to patrol three zones.

"About 75% of people living here are elderly as they first moved to the neighbourhood in 1977.

"We also have a WhatsApp group because our priority is making residents feel safe.

"CCTV cameras were installed nearly two years ago by MPAJ as a security measure and the patrols help the residents to understand the area they live in," he said.
